> The mid and west wales safeguarding board have a tool kit of resources to ensure all participants of a cpr learning event can have a voice . In my previous role restorative support for all practitioners involved in the cpr process was a priority

Nyas Advocacy service was great at gathering children's views as they are an independent service

Best practice

We meet monthly with our MASH partners. Scoped all training needs and are putting in place a multi agency training plan (already started) based on needs analysis. Well received

(From an English perspective) I would say that development of Strengths Based and Relational Practice, including within the delivery of CP Conferences has promoted a greater focus on VLE of the child and parental engagement..

We have regular meetings with the safeguarding midwife and IST Health visitor to ensure all professionals are aware of any safeguarding/vulnerable pregnancies/births due in the area. This information is cascaded to the Health visitors for that area then

Working in safeguarding

Need to consider further how we look after our staff. Thinking particularly in relation to reviews undertaken. Consideration around developing supporting toolkits for staff and families engaged in the review process to ensure their wellbeing is paramount in this. As Esyllt said, looking after our workforce is paramount!

I actually work in adult services but there is a lot of best practice guidance and ideas that are also applicable to our work with adults, especially around multi agency working in the hospital

Professional Curiosity

In addition to promoting our regional self directed learning resource, HdUHB commissioned bespoke training for HV and generic training for all staff. We are working up a rolling training programme

Child's voice

Mid and West Wales are widely promoting the animation we saw earlier this afternoon to be implemented into multi-agency training regionally and beyond, as well as exploring how we ourselves can learn from the resource and create opportunities for greater attention to and decision-making based on child voice.

Having a central system where concerns are shared and disseminated to the wider medical MDT ensures that children and young people are monitored more closely by those with frequent visits to the family. Regular meetings with other services (such as social services) means that concerns can be carried over.

Thresholds

M&WW are reviewing the regional guidance

A&E project

Currently running a project with the local A&E to get their standards up with safeguarding. We've done loads of training, including doctors as well. we are hoping to start a teams channel for ease of communication. currently trying to find an easier way to inform the A&E departments that a child is on the CP register.

> For Panel and WG - Has there been consideration to look at England's model for CP communication - Child Protection Information Sharing CPIS? It works to link up CYP with a CP Plan, LAC and Unborn CPP. They have moved now also to include GP Out of Hours and other frontline out of hours, possibly Ambulance service too.

CPRR

In HDdUHB we out in place an action plan from our informal feedback which is monitored via operational Service Safeguarding Delivery Groups.

RSB developed a self assessment for board partners to review progress and provide assurance against implementation of the standards.

Unified health record

This must be a priority for NHS Wales

On the ground Multi agency working - we work closely with health visitors for example, we regularly talk on the phone for updates or worries and have good working relationships with most. This means that everyone knows where we are at in between core groups too, and as a result there are times when health visitors have played almost a lead role in core groups, on one occasion chairing it almost. I think this is because they feel comfortable and that their concerns are shared by SSD. This has helped with professional curiosity too , giving HV the confidence to mention anything and explore their thoughts following visits to the family to the social worker on the phone, and their concerns have then been validated and explored further

How are you dealing with the issues/challenges around county lines and unaccompanied children asylum seekers in line with professional curiosity?

Automated Portals

I would urge national multi agency leadership on a national approach. I'm aware of some ongoing work and there is a risk different LAs / Board areas will invest in / develop different systems. We should do it Once for Wales

DBS, Local Authorities, and Voluntary Sector are working with the Regional Safeguarding Boards across Wales to support in the delivery of the Safer Recruitment, Safer Employment and implementing the Training Standards & Framework - completed a series of roadshows across North Wales and currently working with Julie for Mid and West Wales - coming from a safer employment supporting practitioners and mangers in safeguarding

> This sounds great

In line with current discussions, often issues to obtain information from LA's over the border on families who have moved to Wales. At times we have to visit the LA to read the files. This means we cannot easily check information self reported by families and does not inform a systemic approach

Access to CPR

There is a barrier to health accessing the CPR and national guidance for all partners would be helpful

NHS Wales Safeguarding Network

The Wales NHS Safeguarding Network is a really good example of collaboration on shared best practice across health boards and trusts, and extending more to general practice. Is there similar work in social care?
